About LogRocket

Founded in 2016, LogRocket's goal is to make every experience on the web as perfect as possible. We're solving a huge challenge for product managers and developers - understanding the user experience. LogRocket is the first system that gives these teams complete visibility into their customer's experience using their web apps - through pixel-perfect replays of user sessions and clear insight into logs, errors, and network activity. We've already attracted an elite roster of over 2,800 customers including ClassPass, Capital One, Cisco, and Rippling, just to name a few. Our focus is on building software with care and craftsmanship and our engineering blog posts offer a taste of that.

Backed by top investors such as Matrix Partners, Battery Ventures, and Delta-V Capital, we've raised $55M in funding and we're eager to bring talented people onboard to support our growth. We're on a mission to improve society's experience with software and that's where you come in.

As a Growth Engineer at LogRocket, you will bridge our engineering and marketing teams. You will be in charge of consolidating and visualizing data across the organization, identifying inefficiencies that can be solved by automation, and building integrations with the tools used by our sales and marketing teams. From day one at LogRocket, the Growth Engineer role will be an active contributor to our sales and marketing operations and help us fulfill our vision of improving society's interaction with software.

If this sounds like a good fit, we'd love to hear from you!

About You

- You're a strong collaborator. You're transparent about progress on tasks, seek feedback early and often, enjoy reviewing code and having your code reviewed, and work effectively with the whole team

- You consistently deliver on your engineering estimates

- You're comfortable with JavaScript, CSS, HTML, and React or another modern frontend framework

- You're comfortable working with APIs and marketing/CRM tools

- You're familiar with a common web backend language

Example Projects

- Enrich Salesforce data with customer usage data

- Convert a wordpress blog to headless CMS consumed by a static site

- Leverage existing customer data to optimize the assignment of prospects to sales reps within a sales engagement platform

- Facilitate the use of lead qualification data to personalize marketing

- Build a system that automatically recommends integrations for customers based on their toolset

Benefits & Perks

- Extensive health, dental, and vision benefits

- Open vacation policy - we all work hard and take time for ourselves when we need it, no strings attached

- Three months of fully-paid parental leave to any employee welcoming a child into their home

- 401k and commuter benefits

- Generous stock options - we all get to own a piece of what we're building

- Regular team outings and activities

- Flexible working hours and location

- Monthly employee gifts

- For those in office, catered lunches throughout the week and a fully stocked kitchen with all your favorite snacks (healthy & non-healthy)

Compensation is based on several factors, including experience level and skillset.

Even if you don't meet all of the listed requirements, we still encourage you to apply. We believe learning is a vital component of success in any role here at LogRocket, and we're happy to chat with folks from non-traditional backgrounds for our open roles.

LogRocket is an equal opportunity employer. We celebrate diversity and are committed to creating an inclusive environment for all employees.
